WORKMEN’S COMPENSATION BOARD.

“WORKMEN’S COMPENSATION ACT.”

COMPRESSED-AIR REGULATIONS.

PURSUANT to the “Workmen’s Compensation Act,” being chapter 278 of the “Revised Statutes of British Columbia, 1924,” the Workmen’s Compensation Board has adopted the following regulations for the protection of workmen employed in compressed-air work, other than diving:—

The definitions contained in section 2 of the “Workmen’s Compensation Act” shall apply to these regulations.

1. These regulations shall apply to employers and workmen in any industry within the scope of the “Workmen’s Compensation Act” in which workmen are employed in compressed-air work, other than diving-work.

2. Every employer, before commencing work in which workmen are employed in compressed-air, shall notify the Workmen’s Compensation Board in writing.

3. When workmen are so employed there shall be at all times at least one person in charge of the work who has a thorough knowledge of the requirements thereof, and he shall require all workmen to comply with these regulations.

4. Every workman shall be responsible for carrying out all regulations which concern or affect his conduct.

5. The maximum total working-time, as given in Column 2, Table 1, in any twenty-four hours shall be divided into two shifts under compressed air with an interval in open air. The minimum rest interval in open air shall not begin until the workman has reached the open air. Workmen who have not previously worked in compressed air shall work therein but one shift during the first twenty-four hours. No person shall be subjected to pressure exceeding 50 lb. per square inch, except in an emergency. The maximum number of hours to each shift and the minimum open-air interval between the shifts during any twenty-four hours for any pressure, as given in Column 1 of Table 1, shall be that set opposite such pressure in Columns 3, 4, and 5, but in no case shall the rest interval taken in conjunction with a meal period be less than one hour.

Table 1.

Column 1.	Col. 2.	Col. 3.	Col. 4.	Col. 5.
Pressure (Pounds).	Maximum Total.	Maximum First Shift in Compressed Air.	Minimum Rest Interval in Open Air.	Maximum Second Shift in Compressed Air.
Greater than normal and up to 22 lb....	7	3½	½	3½
Greater than 22 lb. and up to 29 lb....	6	3	1	3
Greater than 29 lb. and up to 34 lb....	4	2	2	2
Greater than 34 lb. and up to 40 lb....	3	1½	3	1½
Greater than 40 lb. and up to 45 lb....	2	1	4	1
Greater than 45 lb. and up to 50 lb....	1½	¾	5	¾

The limits of hours as herein specified shall apply according to the maximum pressure attained at any time during any shift.

Foremen and others specified by the Superintendent of Construction whose presence under air-pressure is required for only short periods of time may enter the open air without the usual decompression, but no person shall remain under compressed air at pressures ranging from 15 lb. to 27 lb. for a longer period than thirty minutes, or for a greater length of time than fifteen minutes at pressures exceeding 27 lb. but less than 31 lb., or leave pressures of 31 lb. and over without being decompressed.

7. Decompression.—(a.) Except as specified in Regulation 6, no person employed in compressed air shall be permitted to pass from the place in which the work is being done to normal air except after decompression in the intermediate lock as follows:—

(b.) A stage decompression shall be used, in which a drop of half the maximum gauge-pressure shall be at the rate of 5 lb. per minute. The remaining decompression shall be at a uniform rate, and the total time of decompression shall equal the time specified for the original maximum pressure as follows:—

(c.) Where the pressure is greater than normal and less than 15 lb. to the square inch, decompression shall be at the minimum rate of 3 lb. per minute.

(d.) Where the air-pressure is 15 lb. or over and less than 20 lb. to the square inch, decompression shall be at the minimum rate of 2 lb. per minute.

(e.) Where the air-pressure is 20 lb. or over and less than 30 lb. to the square inch, decompression shall be at the minimum rate of 3 lb. every two minutes.

(f.) Where the air-pressure is 30 lb. or over to the square inch, decompression shall be at the minimum rate of 1 lb. per minute.

(g.) After working in pressures of over 22 lb. per square inch each workman shall remain on the job for one hour after decompression.

(h.) The schedule time of decompression shall be posted at and in each man-lock.

(i.) The decompression-lock shall be in charge of a competent person, whose duty it shall be to be in attendance at the lock during the period of decompression and to regulate the valve controlling the supply of air and the rate of pressure.

8. The employer of workmen hereunder shall keep the following records for inspection at all times by the Board or its nominee:—

(a.) The medical reports.

(b.) A record showing the period of stay of each workman in the working-chamber, and the time taken for decompression, and the time he leaves the job. (See 7 (g).)

(c.) A record of all recompression.

(d.) All readings of all recording-gauges.

(e.) A record of all gauge tests.

(f.) A record of any untoward symptoms exhibited or described by any workman coming out from pressure.

(g.) All other matters pertaining to the health and safety of the workmen employed.

9. Compressor Plants.—(a.) A good and sufficient plant for the compression of air shall be provided to meet not only ordinary conditions but emergencies, and to provide margin for repairs at all times.

(b.) This plant shall be capable of furnishing to each working-chamber a sufficient air-supply for all pressures to enable work to be done as nearly as possible in the dry.

(c.) Prime movers operating air-compressor units, whether steam, electric, gasoline, Diesel, or other types, shall have independent or two separate and distinct sources of power-supply so arranged and interconnected that a sufficient number of said units to supply the normal air requirements can be immediately switched from one power source to the other.

(d.) Compressors shall be arranged in multiple so that, with any one unit inoperative for any reason, the remaining unit or units will be of sufficient capacity to supply the normal air requirements.

(e.) Duplicate air-feed lines shall be provided between the sources of air-supply and a point beyond the locks.

10. Locks and Working-chamber.—(a.) The valves and pipes in connection with the air-supply and exhaust shall be so arranged that the locks can be operated both from within and without. In caisson-work at least two air-pipe lines shall be connected with each air-lock and working-chamber.

(b.) Man-locks shall be lighted by electricity and shall be large enough so that the men, in passing through, shall not be compelled to be in cramped positions.

(c.) Locks shall be at least 5 feet in height, and shall contain a timepiece, thermometer, and pressure-gauge which accurately show the time, temperature, and pressure within the lock.

(d.) Workmen are required, when going on shift, to take sufficient clothing into the working-chamber and wear same during the period of decompression in order to avoid chilling.

(e.) In the working-chamber there shall be installed a portable atmospheric pressure-gauge and thermometer placed not more than 10 feet away from the working-face.

(f.) The lower door of each man-lock shall be closed before blasting in the working-chamber takes place. The exhaust-valves shall be operated at intervals, especially after a blast. The workmen shall not be permitted to resume work after a blast until the smoke and gas have cleared sufficiently.

(g.) All caissons in which fifteen or more men are employed and each bulkhead in tunnel, of 12 feet or more in diameter, or equivalent area, shall have at least two man-locks in perfect working condition.

11. Gauges.—When the pressure exceeds 17 lb. to the square inch, a recording-gauge to show the rate of decompression shall be attached to the exterior of each man-lock, and the dial shall be of such size that the amount of rise or fall in the air-pressure within any five minutes shall be readily shown. The recording-gauge shall be protected in a locked box against interference, damage, or destruction.

12. There shall be on the outer side of each working-chamber at least one back-pressure gauge which shall be accessible at all times and shall be kept in accurate working-order. Additional fittings shall be provided so that test-gauges may be attached at all necessary times. All air-pressure gauges shall be tested by a competent person at least once during every twenty-four hours and a record kept of such tests, giving the date, time, and name of the person making the test.

13. (a.) A competent man shall be placed in charge of the valves and gauges which regulate and indicate the pressure in the working-chamber. He shall not be employed more than eight hours in any twenty-four. In caisson-work, at no time shall he operate more than two separate air-lines.

(b.) The supply of fresh air to the working-chamber shall be sufficient at all times to permit work to be done without danger or discomfort.

(c.) All air-supply lines shall be supplied with check-valves and carried as near the working-face as practicable. The air-supply intake shall be so placed that the air supplied to workmen shall be free from gasoline, Diesel engine or other gases, or objectionable materials.

(d.) Suitable and sufficient cooling apparatus shall be used to keep the temperature of the air-supply to tunnels and caissons moderate at all times.

14. Lighting.—All lighting in compressed-air chambers shall be by electricity only. All locks, chambers, and tunnels shall in addition be equipped with emergency electric torches.

15. Communication.—Suitable means of communication shall be maintained at all times between the working-chamber and the power-house and the surface. Telephones shall be installed where practicable.

16. Smoking.—Smoking shall not be permitted in the air-locks or working-chamber.

17. Intoxicating Liquor Prohibited.—No person shall while under the influence of intoxicating liquor enter any compressed-air chamber or any building connected with the operation of the same where workmen are employed, nor shall intoxicating liquors be brought into such places.

18. Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the physician, hereinafter referred to, prescribing alcoholic spirits or other stimulants for compressed-air workers.

19. Wash and Rest Room.—Properly lighted and ventilated dressing-rooms and drying-rooms at a minimum temperature of 70° F. shall be provided for all employees engaged in compressed-air work. Such rooms shall be open and accessible to men during the intermission between shifts. Adequate bathing accommodations equipped with running hot and cold water and adequate sanitary lavatories shall be provided.

20. No nuisance shall be tolerated in any air-chamber; sanitary containers shall be provided for use when necessary.

21. A sufficient supply of hot coffee, sugar, and utensils shall be provided by the employer to men working in compressed air at the termination of shifts and during rest periods.

22. Medical Attendance.—Any employer carrying on any work in which workmen are employed in compressed air shall employ one or more duly qualified physicians who shall be immediately available in case of emergency or accident or when necessary to recompress a workman.

(a.) Before any workman is employed in compressed air, he shall be examined by the physician appointed for that purpose and reported to the employer to be physically fit for such work. Where the workman has had no previous experience in such work, his medical examination shall include a test under pressure in the medical lock before he commences work and a re-examination at the end of his first shift.

(b.) Any workman who has been absent from work for more than ten consecutive days shall not resume work unless a re-examination by the physician shows him to be physically fit to resume work.

(c.) A workman shall not be employed continuously in compressed air for a longer period than two months, unless a re-examination by the physician shows him to be physically fit to continue such work.

(d.) All medical reports required hereunder shall be in such form as may be from time to time prescribed by the Board, and shall contain in detail all the information therein required. The examining physician shall furnish a copy of each report to the employer.

(e.) An adequate medical lock in charge of a physician shall be established and maintained in connection with all work where the maximum pressure exceeds 17 lb. Such lock shall be at least 5 feet in height, divided into two compartments, and of a sufficient size to accommodate the maximum number employed on one shift. Each door shall be fitted with a non-shatterable glass window and with an air-valve controllable from within and without. Such lock shall be properly heated, lighted, and ventilated and shall contain a gauge, a telephone, and a cot. There shall be maintained in close proximity a first-aid room containing a bath-tub and such other appliances as are required by the First-aid Regulations of the Board.

(f.) An identification badge shall be furnished by the employer to all workmen, stating that the workman is a compressed-air workman, and giving the location of the medical lock, and requesting that in case of illness the workman shall be forthwith taken to the medical lock and not to a hospital.

(g.) All medical aid (including first aid) furnished and provided hereunder shall at all times be subject to the direction, supervision, and control of the Board. Where any employer fails, neglects, or refuses to furnish such medical aid hereunder as the Board directs, the Board may furnish such medical aid and charge the cost thereof to the employer.

23. Penalty.—Every person who contravenes any of the aforesaid regulations shall be liable to a penalty of $50.

24. These regulations were adopted on the 26th day of September, 1933, and shall take effect on the expiration of thirty days after the first publication thereof in the Gazette.
